James S. Collins, who lives at Thirtysixth and Valley, about 200 feet north of the Grover street house, testified to seeing a man and woman drive up to the house the Sunday before the kidnaping. He looked at the defendant and declared he looked like the man, but he might be mistaken He had a brown mustache.

On December 19, the day young Cudahy was confined in the house, the witness said saw a curtain over the upper window the Grover street house. This was unusual, as he had never seen it there before nor since. He remembers the date because on that day he began building a barn for Dr. Ayres and it was on his way there he saw the curtain. He did not testify in the Callahan case, but his wife He was unable to describe the woman he had seen at the place, but he thought she had light hair, She had a girl about 3 years old with her.

Mrs. Collins, his wife, was placed on the stand next and told of seeing a man come down the north steps of the Grover street house about 10 o'clock on the 19th. He got on a pony which was tied near the house and rode away. She had also noticed curtain and paid particular attention to it, because she had never seen it before

SIMPLE HEALTHFUL LIVING

The Problem Not Difficult of Solution. A Western woman who had been for years a sufferer from "chronic gastritis, induced, it is believed, by overindulgence in coffee." gives an interesting experience with a good healty moral attached to it:

"For 5 or 6 years I tried every patent nostrum advertised for the relief or cure of dyspepsia. Some times I found temporary relief; sometimes I was for months blistered and burned with plasters externally, or drugged and dieted till I was too disheartened and despondent to core whether I lived or fied, for I never got any permanent relief.

"I have lived for weeks at a time on raw eggs, or dry toast, or buttermilk, or Sweet milk. I have fasted for Cays, suffering the agonies of starvation, and then endured equally acute agony because I must eventually eat.

"My kidneys became badly effected and a female weakness resulted. I was dropsical at times; at others much emaciated. I tried a change of climate and spent 3 years traveling in search of health, coming back home to the same old routine medicine.

"It is about three years now since I first tried Grape-Nuts food-not with any hope of finding anything I could eat, but because I was so sick of everything else. I liked the flavor of Grape-Nuts so much that I are scarcely anything else for a from ousting him, which was set for today, was, at the request of defendants, post poned until next Wednesday morning. A brief hearing on the temporary injun tion secured yesterday by President Patrick Dolan of the Pittsburg district minera against 139 delegates attending the district convention, restraining them from interfering with his powers as president, was held today before Judge Frazer in common pleas court No. 2. Additional time was required by the defendants, and Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock was fixed by the court for the final hearing. A session lasting one hour was held by the convention this morning previous to going to court in a body. It was the stormiest meeting yet held and there was opposition to every matter presented by President Dolan. National Vice President Lewis announced that President Mitchell had instructed him to remain in Pittsburg Friday morning, was held Saturday afterfor a few days. Mr. Lewis also read a telegram from President Mitchell advising the executive board of the Pittsburg district miners that they were permitted to draw on their treasury for funds to retain legal talent in the injunction proceedings. 'I personally am paying my attorneys shouted Dolan to Lewis and the delogates, "and the executive board will do likewise. No money will be taken from the treasury for this purpose if I can help it."

five days President Dolan has been trying to get this report before the convention and when it was called this afternoon Delegate James Wathorn moved an adjournment until next Wednesday. This Dolan promptly ruled out of order, and a dozen delegates insisted on an appeal from the chair's rule being taken. But President Dolan stood like a rock and wielded the gavel in a defiant manner. A delegate nere asked Dolan relative to his attitude in the Ryan resolution at Indianapolis. Dolan then said: "Within twenty-four hours I will give to the world a full statement of my position at Indianapolis, I will send copies of this statement to every local union in the Pittsburg district, and also President Dolan again asked that the tellers read their report, and upon objections from various parts of the hall, he accused the delegates of purposely delaying the proceedings and called their attention to the provisions of the injunction National Vice President Lewis here took the floor and made an impassioned plea. He urged the delegates not to adjourn the convention, but to transact the bust ness properly, so that they could give an intelligent report to their constituents. The earnest work of Mr. Lewis had the effect of quieting the delegates and the tellers report was then presented. The report showed that President Dolan had received 8.362 votes and was elected without opposition. Vice President Urlah Bellingham was also elected, receiving 3.563 votes, as was William Dodds for secretary-treasurer,

Dodds received 4,005 votes. At the close of the report and without waiting for action by the convention, President Dolah declared the officers named elected for another year

Mitchell Talks of Situation.

INDIANAPOLIS. Feb. 10.-President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers left Indianapolis tonight for New York, where he will attend the meeting of the anthracite operators and miners to be held next Thursday. Before he started Mr. Mitchell was asked whether he thought the situation in the Pittsburg convention is not the result of a plot aimed at the national union. With a smile he replied: "I regret that am not in a position to talk on the subject. I shall not stop at Pittsburg, but will go directly to New York over the Big
